Network®

A photograph of a woman with long dark hair, wearing a grey sweater, looking down at a tablet device she is holding. The background is dark and out of focus.

“ Having cancer has been scary. I have received so much love and support from my friends in the Cancer Survivors Network. They are my lifeline.”

– Lee

Get peer support online.

You and your loved ones do not have to face cancer alone. You can get support through the American Cancer Society Cancer Survivors Network®, a free online community created by and for people with cancer and their families.

Anyone who has been diagnosed with cancer, or is caring for or has lost someone to cancer, is welcome in this special community. Members understand what you’re going through. Sharing experiences, practical tips, and hope – that’s what the Cancer Survivors Network is all about.

Why should I join the Cancer Survivors Network?

- You can get support and practical tips from others like yourself.
- You can support other members and share what you’ve learned. It’s an easy but powerful way to help others.
- It’s available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.
- It’s free.

What can I do in the Cancer Survivors Network?

- Get and give support and practical tips.
- Search, find, and connect with others like yourself.
- Read and comment on others' stories and blogs; see their photos and other personal expressions.
- Take part in discussion boards and a live chatroom.
