

Legacies

that build a healthier community for all.

The McGehee Family at the McGehee Family Tower Groundbreaking with Michael Mayo, DHA, FACHE, president and CEO of Baptist Health, Baptist Jacksonville hospital president, Nicole Thomas, FACHE, and Wolfson Children's Hospital president, Allegra Jaros, MBA.

On behalf of the Foundation Board, it is our privilege to work alongside such a dedicated team, passionate supporters, and an incredible community of philanthropists that share our mission.

As we look ahead, one of our greatest opportunities and responsibilities is ensuring long-term stability of Baptist Health through the growth of our endowment. As you well know, endowments are more than financial resources—they are a promise to future generations that the care, programs, and innovations we provide today will be available tomorrow and beyond. By strengthening these funds, we can confidently invest in new ideas while safeguarding what matters most: the patients and families cared for by Baptist Health and Wolfson Children's Hospital.

In this edition, you'll find great highlights on how endowments are impacting our system. Your continued partnership—through your generosity, advocacy, and vision—makes this possible. Together, we are creating legacies that build a healthier community for all.

Cleve Warren, MBA

Chair

Baptist Health Foundation

Dear Friends of Baptist Health,

On behalf of Baptist Health and Wolfson Children's Hospital, thank you for your extremely thoughtful generosity. We are continually inspired by the kindness and compassion of this community. Your commitment fuels everything we do—advancing programs, supporting innovation, and ensuring the highest level of care for those we are honored to serve.

One of the most powerful ways we can safeguard our mission is through strong endowments. Endowments provide financial stability in uncertain times and create a lasting source of funding for future generations. They enable us to dream bigger and respond to needs with confidence—today and tomorrow.

Our Foundation's Legacy Report provides an annual update for you to see the value and impact of our endowments, as well as the amount available for spending on October 1, the start of our fiscal year. After reviewing the publication, if you prefer a specific summary of your endowment's activity, please feel free to reach out to us, Foundation@bmcjax.com, 904.202.2919.

Once again, thank you for believing in our work and for being such an essential part of this journey. Happy holidays to you and yours!

Transforming Care Through Generosity:

How Philanthropy is Shaping Our Future

LONGSTANDING ENDOWMENT SUPPORT

Beloved community volunteer, Foundation Board Member and philanthropist, Paul Bosland, has been an unwavering pillar of support for more than 33 years, demonstrating dedication to our cause and mission. Paul's philanthropic support has supported initiatives such as the Wolfson Children's Challenge, the Baptist Nassau Capital Campaign, Wolfson Children's expansion programs, the Baptist Health Clinical School and the Baptist Jacksonville structural heart program.

Paul Bosland

In 2016, he established a named endowment to support community health and wellness activities for Baptist Medical Center Nassau. Paul's contributions have played a pivotal role in advancements across the health system, from children to adults, and in various pockets of our community – from Nassau County to downtown Jacksonville and everywhere in between.

TEED UP FOR A CAUSE

The Cimarrone Ladies Golf Association in St. Johns County has been hosting an annual golf tournament for more than 20 years. In 2017, an endowment was established to help support women's cancer care at Baptist Medical Center South. "We are proud of our long-standing relationship with Baptist Health in support of women's health initiatives, as they share our deep commitment to advancing breast cancer awareness, early detection and care for women in our community," shared the Cimarrone Ladies Golf Association members.

COMMUNITY SUPPORT GROWING TO KEEP FAMILIES TOGETHER

Wolfson Children's Hospital's goal of becoming a top-quartile pediatric cancer program is not just about providing cutting-edge treatments; it's about keeping families together during their most challenging moments. Wolfson Children's, together with the Florida Specialty Hospitals for Children, has set a goal for all four children's hospitals, to rank in the nation's top 25 for pediatric cancer.

Community support has been building, with several Jacksonville families and foundations pledging support:

- Borowy Family Charitable Foundation
- Melanie and Morgan Busby
- CSX Foundation, Inc.
- Jack and Betty Demetree Family Foundation
- Dana and Nassim Elias
- Jim and Tabitha Furyk Foundation
- Debbie and Mel Gottlieb
- Diane and Steve Halverson
- Gary Meadors
- The Snyder Family
- Cynthia and Martin VanTrieste
- 2025 State of Florida Legislature

"Families in our Jacksonville community shouldn't have to choose between receiving the best care and staying close to home," said Florida House Speaker-designate Sam Garrison. "Expanding access to pediatric oncology care locally will bring hope, support and stability to affected families while building a healthier and stronger community for our entire region."

Elevating emergency care

Baptist Health broke ground on a new, four-story, ultramodern emergency and patient tower at the health system's flagship campus shared by Baptist Medical Center Jacksonville and Wolfson Children's Hospital. The move marks a major step forward in expanding and enhancing access to advanced care for adults and children in Northeast Florida when they need it most. The McGehee Family Tower is named in honor of community philanthropists Debbie and Sutton McGehee Jr., whose transformative gift helped make the project possible.

More patients receive emergency care at Baptist Health's main campus than at any other hospital in the Jacksonville area. The 123,000-square-foot McGehee Family Tower will significantly enhance the health system's capacity to provide the highest level of care for a wide range of health needs. These include chest pain, stroke, behavioral health crises, complex illnesses or injuries, pediatric trauma and more.

"We continuously strive to create great experiences for our patients and their families, and our new emergency and patient tower has been designed from the ground up to reflect that commitment," said Michael A. Mayo, DHA, FACHE, president and CEO of Baptist Health. "We are so grateful to the McGehee family for helping to bring this project to life. Their legacy of compassion will touch the lives of future generations."

McGehee Family:

Philanthropy that spans generations

The McGehee Family

As longstanding supporters of Wolfson Children's Hospital and Baptist Health across multiple generations, the McGehees have a deep interest in the health system's efforts to enhance community health, most especially for children. The couple, along with their three daughters and sons-in-law, contributed funds toward the Borowy Family Children's Critical Care Tower through the "Hope Starts Here" campaign in 2020. Frank McGehee, Sutton's father and co-founder of the family business Mac Papers, generously dedicated over 20 years of his time and leadership as a member and chair of the Wolfson Children's Hospital board. Frank's sister, Ellen Cavert, founded The Women's Board of Wolfson Children's Hospital, and Sutton and Debbie's daughter, Ray, is currently a member of the Wolfson Children's Hospital Development Council.

In 2017, the McGehees also established an endowment, the Del and Peggy Dallas Chair in Breast Cancer Care, at Baptist MD Anderson, named in honor of Debbie's late parents. Her father received treatment for gastric cancer at MD Anderson in Houston.

"We wanted to make a lasting gift for our community that we have called home for generations," said Debbie and Sutton McGehee. "We raised our kids here and our grandchildren are growing up here. Supporting this new patient and ER tower helps to make sure that Baptist Health and Wolfson Children's Hospital can continue to care for current and future generations of families in the Jacksonville area."

Powered by gratitude

As a not-for-profit health care system, philanthropy touches every aspect of Baptist Health and defines us as an organization.

The Baptist Health Foundation supports the programs and services of our health system and hospitals, enabling Baptist Health to provide the highest quality care for our patients and our community.

Thank you for your generous support!

The Sapphire Circle celebrates donors whose cumulative giving exceeds $1 million, with leadership-level investments to advance Baptist Health's and Wolfson Children's clinical care, innovation, research, and community advocacy.

The Medallion Society honors donors who have reached a lifetime cumulative giving amount of $125,000 or more to any area of Baptist Health/Wolfson Children's.

The DreamCoat Society celebrates a community of Wolfson Children's Hospital donors who give $10,000 or more annually, helping to ensure that our region's children always have access to the best care.

The Society of 1955 honors donors who have included Baptist Health or Wolfson Children's in their estate plans.

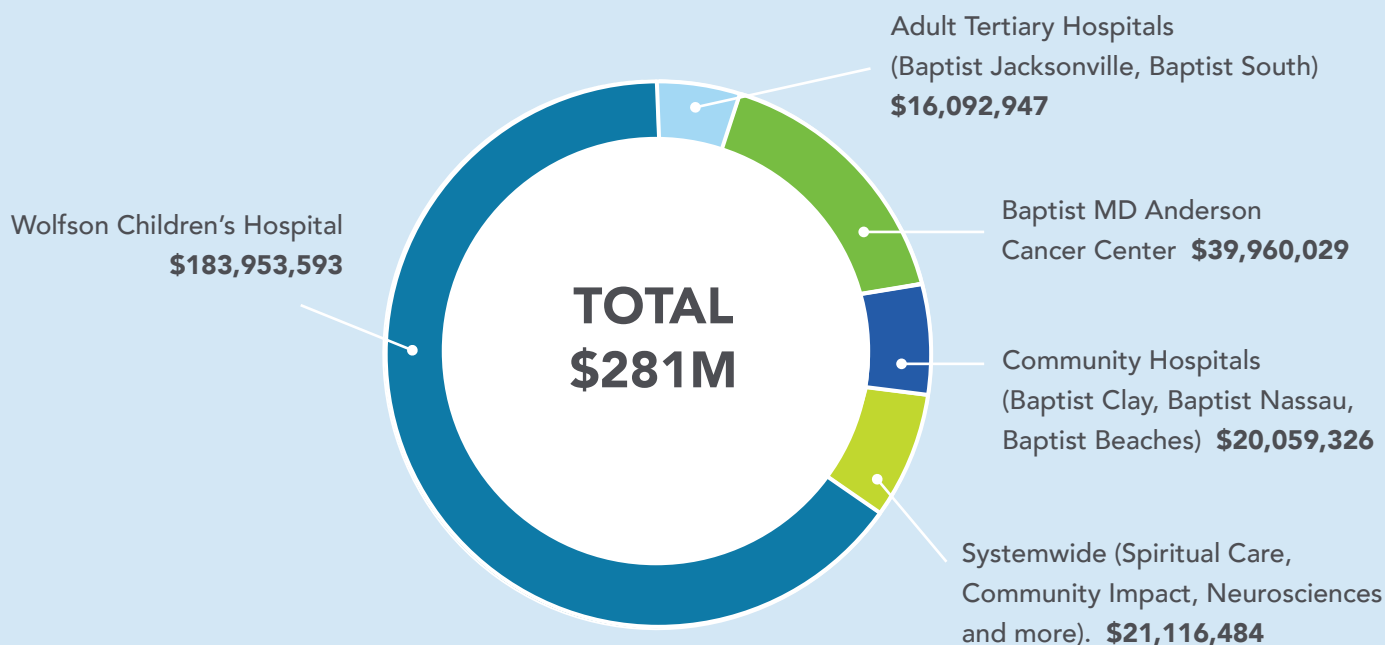

A Grateful Patient Program at Baptist Health

For many patients and families, giving back is an important part of the healing process. Philanthropy offers a meaningful way to show gratitude for the exceptional care you and your team deliver. It also provides an opportunity to support our mission and help make a lasting impact on the lives of future families who will rely on our care. For more information on honoring your caregivers, please contact us at Foundation@bmcjax.com.

Creating meaningful impact

The endowments at the Foundation are comprised of more than 340 funds. But it's not about the dollars, it's what those dollars do to sustain our work to care for our community. Over the years, growth of the endowments through philanthropic giving and investment return has enabled us to provide world-class care to our patients and families.

BAPTIST HEALTH FOUNDATION ENDOWMENT SPENDING POLICY

Effective June 30, 2017, the Baptist Health Foundation Board of Trustees has revised the Spending Policy for all endowment funds.

The spending policy makes available the greatest amount for annual distribution while preserving the future purchasing power of the account. The Baptist Health Foundation has determined the appropriate amount to be made available for distribution each year is up to 5% of the "average market value" of each endowed account. The "average market value" is defined as the average of the total market values of the account on the last day of June of the preceding three years. The advantage to this method is that averaging "smooths" out the fluctuations in market performance from year to year and provides a more predictable source of revenue. All endowments must reach the $25,000* threshold before any spending distribution is made available. Funds are posted on October 1 of each year to the corresponding endowment's operating account.

During the first three years after an endowed account is established, the amount available for distribution is the actual net (after expenses) earned during the preceding year, up to a maximum of 5% of the endowed amount contributed. The Baptist Health Foundation may amend this Spending Policy at any time during the year should economic conditions dictate the necessity, otherwise it reviews the Spending Policy annually.

Newly established endowments in the first or second year are eligible only if they reach the $25,000 threshold (subject to change).*

Creating a lasting legacy

Establishing a named endowment is a powerful way to make a lasting impact. By establishing and naming an endowment, you can ensure that your generosity continues to support our patients and families for generations to come. Endowments may be created with a commitment made over several years, allowing you to build a permanent legacy while supporting our mission to make hope, healing and well-being accessible to every person as an expression of God's love.
